(Any outstanding or peculiar feature to be commented on by investigating officer).

Connected with Miss. No. 245/35. Writ of Detention.

At 10 p.m. 25-6-35, G.P.C's 1098 and 2027 saw the 1st and 2nd accused on Lay Road near Hoshien Road. They noticed that the 1st accused was carrying a bundle of paper in his hand, so suspected them and watched them. They saw the 1st and 2nd accused turn into Hoshien Road, where the 1st accused was seen to give a number of pamphlets to the 2nd accused, who threw them into a cigarette shop, situated at No. 18 Hoshien Road. The two G.P.C's then ran after them and succeeded in effecting their arrest. The pamphlets thrown into the cigarette shop proved to be of an anti-Japanese and Communistic nature. (Translation attached)

The 1st accused was also found to be in possession of 78 copies of pamphlets of a like nature, and a number of pieces of white chalk.

Questioned at the Station by G.D.C's 280 and 277 the 1st accused stated that pamphlets had been given to him, at 6.30 p.m. 25-6-35 at the corner of Pingliang and Lay Roads corner, by one Ning Foo King (汪富榮) (3rd accused), with orders to distribute them.

Questioned re the whereabouts of Ning, the 1st accused stated he did not know where he lived, but was aware that this man was employed at the General Alloy and Die Casting Works, 643 Yulin Road.

A visit was paid to this place, where it was ascertained that Ning was employed there, but did not sleep on the premises. Detectives were therefore left on the premises to await his return on the morning of the 26-6-35.

A visit was then paid to the Dah Tong (大東) Rubber Factory, 300 Meishow Road, where both the 1st and 2nd accused are employed, both residing on the premises. On top of and in the drawers of a chest of drawers belonging to the 1st accused was found a number of books and pamphlets of an Anti-Japanese and Communistic nature. In a box belonging to the 2nd accused was found pamphlets and books of a like nature. (Translations attached)

The 1st and 2nd accused appeared before the Court on the 26-6-35, on a Writ of Detention, Miss. No. 245/35, when they were ordered to be detained until the 4-7-35.

At 5.30 a.m. 26-6-35 C.B.C's 181 and 218 who had been placed inside the General Alley and Die Casting Works, 645 Yulin Road, succeeded in arresting the 3rd accused.

In his possession were found a number of pamphlets of a like nature to those seized from the 1st accused, and a piece of charcoal, presumably used for slogan writing.

Questioned as to his address, the 3rd accused led detectives to No. 21 Loong Hsing Lee, Pingliang Road, where in a ground floor back room were found a large quantity of pamphlets and books, all of an Anti-Japanese and Communistic nature. (Translations Attached).

Questioned as to the source of this literature, he stated it belonged to the 1st accused.

The 3rd accused appeared before the Court on the morning of the 27-6-35, on a Writ of Detention, when he too was ordered to be detained until the 4-7-35.

Questioned together and separately, all accused corroborate each others stories which are as follows:-

The 1st accused states that about 1 year ago he was attending Sunday classes in Social Science in the Chinese Y.M.C.A., French Concession, and there became acquainted with one Sung Pang Tshu (陳本初) and afterwards became a friend of this man and often met him on the street and went to places of amusement with him. They used to discuss matters of a political nature and Sung frequently sent the 1st accused a periodical entitled the "Political Weekly." The 1st accused states he never knew where the man Sung lived, but one day he asked him where he was employed and was told that

About 3 months ago 1st accused rang up Yangtszepoo Station and asked to be allowed to speak to Zung, but was told that there were many Zung's in the station and that he had better call personally.

On the 31st May 1935 the 1st accused received a telephone call from Zung, telling him to meet Zung on the Cheamulpo Road Jetty between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. that day. The 1st accused kept the appointment and met Zung who handed him a bundle of pamphlets dealing with "May 9th Incident" which 1st accused distributed in the vicinity of Hoochien Road.

Prior to this Zung persuaded the 1st accused to become a member of the Chinese People's Armed Defense Society, Zung telling the 1st accused that the H.Q. of the Society was in Manchuria.

On the 9th of May 1935, the 1st accused met the 3rd accused, who is an old school mate of his and he, 1st accused, eventually persuaded the 3rd accused to become a member of the People's Armed Defense Society and also gave to him a number of pamphlets given to him by Zung on the 31st May 1935. At his place of employment the 1st accused became acquainted with the 2nd accused, and gave this man literature of an anti-Japanese and Communist nature to read with a view to later persuading him to join the Chinese People's Armed Defense Society.

On the 14th May 1935, the 1st and 3rd accused jointly engaged a room at No. 21 Loong Hsing Lee, Pingliang Road, where all the books and pamphlets given to the 1st accused by Zung were kept.

The 1st accused did not reside there, but the 3rd accused was a permanent resident and slept there.

On the 18-6-35, the 1st accused received a telephone call from Zung, telling him to meet him on Chensai Road Jetty that evening at about 6 p.m.

The 1st accused did so and received a large number of pamphlets and books from Zung, which he took to No. 21 Loong Hsing Lee, Pingliang Road.

On the night of the 25-6-35, the 1st accused took a number of these pamphlets and succeeded in persuading the 2nd accused to assist him to distribute them.

Whilst they were distributing them they were arrested as aforementioned.

RECORD OF INVESTIGATION.

All accused deny being members of the Communist Party, but cannot explain away the Communistic literature found in their possession.

The D.O. "D" Division was informed regarding the statement of the 1st accused to the effect that Zung was supposed to be an interpreter in Yangtzepoo Station, and on the morning of the 29-6-35 an Identification parade was held there, but the 1st accused could not identify any of those present, and it is fairly evident that Zung had lied when he stated he was employed in Yangtzepoo Station, it being very unlikely that he would ever let the 1st accused know where he could be located.

All accused will again appear before the Court on the 4-7-35, charged with propagating Communism.

Made by D.S. Jones

Forwarded by W. B. Jones, S.2.

During the afternoon of June 28 D.S. Jones accompanied by Loh Wei Kong of S.1 proceeded to Yulin Road Station and there interrogated the 1st accused Chin Yieh Zung (金益仁) and then 3rd accused Ning Fu Ding (任富廷) regarding their connections with the Chinese Communist Party. The two men persisted in their denials that they are in any way connected with the Party and maintain that they are only interested in the anti-Japanese movement.

The man Ching (金) who is implicated by Ning Fu Ding is none other than Chin Yieh Zung, the 1st accused. Ning Fu Ding and Chin Yieh Zung were identified at Yulin Road Station today by Sung Wong Sz (王世) 2nd tenant of No. 21 Loong Hsing Li, Pingliang Road as the men who engaged a room at this address on May 14th last.

It will be seen that in the attached statement Chin Yieh Zung implicates a man named Zung Pung Tshu, whom he alleges is an interpreter employed at Yangtszepoo Police Station.

This matter was explained to Mr Yorke, Asst. Commissioner, who communicated with the Inspector i/c Yangtszepoo Station on the subject. Mr Yorke later informed D.S.I. Coyne over the telephone that it would be necessary to take a statement from the prisoner and have it brought to his office at 9.30 a.m. the next day, when he would take the necessary steps to clear up this aspect of the case. The statement was taken this evening by D.S. Jones assisted by Clerk Zung of S.2.

It should be mentioned that the Asst. Commissioner (Chinese) has no records of any clerks or interpreters employed at Yangtszepoo Station the characters of whose names resemble in every particular those of Zung Pung Tshu.

Subject Case against three Chinese Communist suspects arrested in the Yulin Road District by the S.M.P.

The literature seized at No. 21 Loong Hsing Li (隆兴里) Pingliang Road, the home of Ning Foo Ding (任富定) (3rd accused) and that seized at the Tah Tong (大通) Rubber Factory, No. 300 Maichow Road, the place where the 1st accused Chin Vieh Zung (金益仁) and the 2nd accused Ts Yau Kung (陈耀根) both reside and work has now been examined and listed by the staff of S.2 - copies of lists attached.

In addition to the usual communistic matter the literature seized includes various pamphlets and periodicals of a communistic nature published by an organisation styling itself the "Armed Self Defence Committee of the Chinese People." The pamphlets which the 1st and 2nd accused were disseminating at the time of their arrest on Hochien Road also emanate from this so-called Armed Self-Defence Committee. The subject matter of the pamphlets is of a patriotic nature ~~in~~ in so far as the appeal to the masses to oppose the occupation of North China by Japanese Imperialists is concerned, but the exhortation to declare a general strike, and to support the "anti-Japanese Vanguard of the Red Army" clearly shows that the anti-Japanese movement is only a cloak to veil the subversive intent of the authors of this reactionary literature.

The 3rd accused Ning Foo Ding appears to be the most important of the three men arrested. It was at his residence where most of the communistic literature was found. Chin Vieh Zung, the 1st accused, states that it was Ning Fu Ding who induced him to join the Chinese Peoples' Armed Self-Defence Committee.

Ning Fu Ding will be further interrogated by D.S. Jones regarding the person named Ching (金), who visited him from

Summarized translation of Exhibit No. 26
seized at 21, Loong Hsing Li, Pingliang
Road, on June 26, 1935.

Booklet entitled "General Principles of War against Japan."

Mobilization of the naval, land and air forces throughout the country for war against Japan - its possibilities.

From a political point of view.

(1) Since the incident of September 18, the Japanese imperialists have been continuously invading China, while the British, American, French, Italian and German imperialists, inspired by the aggressive policies of Japan, have been pushing forward feverishly a movement to partition China. Due to the efforts on the part of these imperialists, China's industry has become bankrupt and her rural economics have been upset with the result that all the Chinese people are now suffering from unemployment, bankruptcy, war, famine and starvation, etc.

At present, the Japanese imperialists are accelerating their military operations against China and have already started an attack upon Charhar. China's crisis is further aggravated by the feverish endeavours of the International imperialists to have China partitioned.

The crisis of China is more deeply felt by the soldiers of the naval, land and air forces throughout the country because they are in the front line of national defence. They are exceedingly indignant over the Japanese invasions and there is being fomented among them an extensive anti-Japanese war.

(2) The Chinese soldiers, who have participated during the past years in civil wars, especially in the war against the Red armies, are well aware that the Anti-Red Campaign will not minimize the crisis of the Chinese nation but will assist indirectly the Japanese and other imperialists in their invasions upon China. They are sure that the territorial integrity and independence of China can be safeguarded)

(only by stopping all civil wars, uniting the whole nation, and starting an anti-Japanese and national revolutionary war.

(3) For the faithful enforcement of the non-resistance policy and for satisfying the wish of the Japanese imperialists to suppress all anti-Japanese movements, the Kuomintang, which is ruling China and which represents the interests of the Japanese and other imperialists, forbids the anti-Japanese movements of the soldiers and sends them to be killed in civil wars. Large numbers of those who have failed to observe this order, have been shot or buried alive. However, the high-handed measures of the Kuomintang will only force the Chinese soldiers to participate in anti-Japanese and national revolutionary war.

(4) The renewed attacks upon China by the Japanese imperialists, the civil war, flood, drought, and famine which <sup>have</sup> lasted for years, and industrial bankruptcy, have created thousands and thousands of unemployed workers, penniless farmers and refugees. The majority of them, who cherish strong anti-Japanese feelings and an eager desire for national emancipation, have joined either bandits or government troops since they are unable to find any other means of making a livelihood. Consequently the elements ~~in~~ of which the Chinese troops are composed, have undergone an evident transformation as they now consist chiefly of unemployed workers and ex-farm labourers with the result that the anti-Japanese feelings of Chinese troops are becoming increasingly strong. Even low grade officers and a number of senior officers can no longer endure the oppression of the government and are in favour of a war against Japan.

For the above reasons, it is definitely possible to mobilize the naval, land and air forces throughout the country for an anti-Japanese and national revolutionary war.

From a historical point of view.

(1) During 1925-1927, the troops of the National Government of Kwantung won great victories in the Anti-Northern Expedition. They not only defeated the troops of the running dogs of Japanese and British imperialists such <sup>as</sup> Wu Pei Fu, Chang Chung Chang and Sun Chuan Fang, etc., but they also effected the restoration to China of the British settlements in Hankow and Kiukiang. This shows that Chinese troops are competent to fight our imperialist enemies.

(2) In the incident of September 18, the militarist traitor, Chang Hsueh Liang, withdrew his huge army to areas within the Great Wall. The ordinary civilians in Manchuria, however, endeavoured to defend themselves by organizing anti-Japanese volunteers and national salvation armies. These forces, armed with weapons of the primitive age, are still carrying on desperate struggles against the well equipped Japanese forces and have inflicted serious setbacks upon them. For three years these civilian forces have been fighting the Japanese and their strength keeps growing.

(3) In the incident of January 28, 1932, the 19th Route Army, which consisted of only two divisions and was equipped with firearms of an ancient type, effectively resisted the attacks launched from air, land, and warships by more than a hundred thousand Japanese troops, well trained and with up-to-date equipment. This shows that Chinese civilians and troops can be brave fighters in a war against Japan.

(4) During 1933, when the Japanese imperialists attacked Yuikwan and occupied Jehol, the Chinese troops in North China put up a stubborn resistance. For about two or three months, in the severe cold weather, with torn and rotten clothing and almost empty-handed owing to lack of military supplies from the government, the northern troops were able to stand the terrific bombardments of the Japanese air and land forces.

Following the conclusion of the Tanku Pact, the anti-Japanese soldiers in Charhar united and resisted Japanese invasions on their own initiative, and finally succeeded in restoring Toron, Kuyuen, and other places in Eastern Charhar.

(5) On August 1, 1934, when this Committee published manifestoes and general principles relating to war against Japan, the Red armies in Kiangsi and Fokien, under the directorship of the Provisional Central Government of the Soviet Republic of China and the Revolutionary Military Council, took an oath to fight the Japanese and to safeguard the territorial integrity of China. A vanguard, composed of men chosen from the Red armies in Kiangsi and Fokien, was immediately dispatched to the North to fight the Japanese. This force has now reached Southern Anhwei where it is fighting its way northward against the anti-Red forces.

(6) During January of this year, 1935, when the Japanese forces attacked Eastern Charhar, the 29th Army and the volunteers stationed there, regardless of the orders of the Nanking government to retreat, bravely resisted the Japanese forces who attacked with airplanes, artillery, tanks and gas. They held their positions firmly under difficult circumstances and captured large quantities of military supplies from the Japanese.

All the above mentioned historical facts show us that to mobilize all the Chinese naval, land and air forces to carry out a war against Japan is definitely possible.

Ways and means to mobilize the various Chinese forces.

- (1) The North Eastern Army which has participated in anti-Japanese fighting.

The soldiers of the North Eastern Army are mostly natives of Manchuria. Their homes have been, and are being trampled on by the Japanese imperialists and they are greatly indignant over the continuous attack upon China by the Japanese imperialists. To excite their anti-Japanese feelings, we should take advantage of every possible opportunity to discuss the following subjects with them:-

- a) Present and past conditions in their native places.
- b) The Sept. 18 incident and the war at Yuikiwan and in Jehol, and the non-resistance policy of the government.
- c) The renewed attacks by Japanese imperialists; the Eastern Charhar incident; the crisis in North China.
- d) The open treachery of the government and its pro-Japanese activities; the dispatch of the North-Eastern Army to Honan, Hupeh, and Anhwei to fight the Red armies.
- e) Their personal sufferings, and the significance of the manifestoes and the general principles of this Committee.

We can then persuade them to (1) organize branches of this committee or cells of the Anti-Civil War League or other anti-Japanese bodies, (2) return to North China on their own initiative to carry out anti-Japanese fighting or (3) demand their military leaders to send them back to North China.

As regards those troops of the North Eastern Army who are still stationed in North China, they should be urged to oppose transfer to the south but to participate in the anti-Japanese and national salvation movement.

(2) Other troops in North China. The troops in North China are practically under the very nose of Japanese guns and are liable to be attacked at any and every moment. We should warn them of the danger and raise their anti-Japanese feelings by keeping them informed of all news relating to the Japanese intrigues in North China and also of the principles of this Committee. We should persuade them to organize branches of this committee and prepare themselves for revolt.

As regards their senior officers, we should explain to them the present situation in China, the ways and means to save the nation, the demands of the people for a war against Japan, and other matters regarding their personal welfare. They will thus be persuaded to sign an agreement to cooperate with us in the coming war against Japan.

(3) Troops engaged in Anti-Red Campaign.

The troops engaged in the Anti-Red Campaign are the main forces of China. They have been forced by the imperialists and their agents to engage in internecine war which indirectly assists the Japanese invasions. Being affected by the political significance of the Red armies who are winning great victories, they have now become awakened and are opposing civil wars. We should point out to them the present crisis of the Chinese nation and inform them about the dispatch of Red armies to fight the Japanese imperialists in the North. Thus they would cease their attacks upon Red armies and cooperate with us in anti-Japanese movements.

(4) Various volunteer armies. Propagate among them the principles of anti-Japanese war, extend their anti-Japanese guerilla warfare, and organize among them branches of cells of this committee.

(5) Troops of "Manchukuo." These troops are composed partly of unemployed workers, bankrupt farmers and bandits who joined the army for the sake of making a living, and partly of persons conscripted by the Manchukuo authorities. They are treated like slaves and are always killed on the slightest suspicion of being in touch with anti-Japanese volunteers or communists. Consequently their anti-Japanese feeling is growing and they are always ready to revolt against the Japanese. We should, therefore, instigate them to revolt or at least to remain neutral towards the anti-Japanese volunteers.

(6) Various irregular troops. These troops do not have fixed bases and are always in financial stringency. As they are anxious to find a way out, they can be persuaded to participate in anti-Japanese guerilla war and to conclude military agreements with Red armies.

Mobilization of the whole nation for promoting the anti-Japanese movement.

The whole country can be divided into the following areas so as to facilitate the promotion of the movement:-

- (1) North Eastern Area including Manchuria and Jehol with Harbin as its centre.

This area is practically under the control of the Japanese imperialists. Our principal task there is to direct the people in extending the activities of the volunteer armies and in endeavouring to overthrow the rule of the Manchurian and Japanese authorities.

- (2) Northern Area including Hopei, Chahar, Suiyuan, Shensi, Shantung, Honan, Kansu, and Ninghsia, with Peiping as its centre.

This area has practically been converted into a Japanese colony and the Japanese are planning to establish a puppet government there. Our principal task is to mobilize all the people to participate in anti-Japanese war so as to expel all Japanese from North China.

- (3) South Eastern Area including Kiangsu and Chekiang with Shanghai as its centre.

This area might be regarded as the principal base of the Japanese for invading Central and South China. At the same time this area is the centre of the self-defence movement of the Chinese people.

With the object of annexing all China, Japan is now preparing to occupy Shanghai. Our principal task in this area is to confiscate Japanese property, to disarm all the Japanese forces, to restore territories under Japanese influence such as Shanghai, Chapei and Woosung, to interrupt the communications and connections between the Japanese warships in the Yangtze River and those outside the mouth of the river.

- (4) Central China Area including Anhwei, Kiangsi, Hunan, and Hupeh with Wuhan as its centre.

Our principal task in this area is to disarm the Japanese warships, to confiscate Japanese property, restore Japanese concessions to China, and eliminate the Japanese influence in the Yangtze valley.

- (5) Southern Area including Fokien, Kwantung, Kwangsi, Yunnan, and Kweichow with Amoy as its centre.

The Japanese are making energetic efforts to seize this area, especially Fokien, which they intend to turn into a principal base for invading South China and for military operations in the coming Pacific war.

Our principal task in this area is to annihilate the Japanese fleet at Foochow and Amoy, restore to China the Japanese concessions, and concentrate all forces to defend Foochow, Amoy, and the coast.

- (6) North Western Area including Szechuen, Chinghai, Tibet, Sikong, and Sinkiang, with Chengtu as its centre.

Our principal task there is to eliminate the Japanese influence in Szechuen and Sinkiang and to work in conjunction with the Central Area in the removal of the Japanese influence from the districts along the upper and middle Yangtze.

(4) Give military training to students, peasants, shop assistants, teachers and free traders and organize them into volunteer armies, anti-Japanese reserve units, and dare-to-die corps, to be sent to the front to reinforce the regular troops.

(8) Seize the firearms imported by the Nanking Government for the purpose of arming the masses to fight the Japanese.

(9) Being unable to secure at once the necessary modern firearms, let us start uprisings with weapons of the primitive age such as knives ~~and~~ and native guns etc., with the object of seizing firearms from the troops and policemen engaged in suppressing anti-Japanese movements.

(10) Get into touch with all volunteers, bandits, Red Spear Societies, etc., and reorganize them into anti-Japanese forces.

(11) Direct and assist the peasants and refugees in their struggles, such as seizing food provisions and demanding relief, etc. and arm them in order to enable them to participate in anti-Japanese guerilla warfare.

26th June

Clerk Hui Jit Sze

My name is Hing Foo Ding (丁福安), 31 years, born at Ningpo. My father, who was formerly a teacher at Ningpo died about 17 years ago, while my mother who is still living, resides with relatives at the West Gate, Ningpo.

At the age of 7 I began to attend the 3rd Primary School at Ningpo. I studied at this school for 6 years and afterwards remained at home for 2 years without employment. I then came to Shanghai at the age of 15 years and was apprenticed to the Sen Tan (全泰) Piece Goods Shop, near the Consulate, near Route Hue. I was there three years after which I got a job as accountant at the General Metal Works, East Broadway Road, (now at Yulin Road) where I am still employed. During the last six weeks I have resided at No. 21 Hsing Loong Li (※ 21), Pingliang Road.

I have a friend named Ching (金) who visits me about once a week. Ching last called on me on the night of the 24th of June. He brought a number of anti-Japanese and pro-communistic handbills which he left, instructing me to distribute them in Liaoyang Road at 9 a.m. the following night. I have distributed these pamphlets before, three times in May and June this year, once in Wayside Road and twice in Liaoyang Road. Ching gave me no money for this work. He persuaded me to do it from patriotic motives, as the pamphlets were anti-Japanese. The other literature found in my room was left there by Ching. I don't know what it consisted of.

For my work as accountant at the Metal Works I received $16 a month. I receive nothing from any other source. I am not a communist. I joined the National Salvation Group about 2 months ago. Ching belonged to same Party. I do not know where Ching lives as he never told me. Although Ching did not pay me for my work on behalf of the National Salvation Group he paid $4.80 towards the monthly rent of my room, this sum representing half the monthly rental.

L.I. Kuh Pa-ha

My name is Kying Yih Zung (金益仁), age 19, male native of Soochow. Between the age of 7 and 15, I studied in a private school in my native country at Cheung Meng (周門), Soochow. I was then apprenticed to the Tsh Feong Zing (文新祥) piece goods shop, Rue du Consulat, French Concession, until three years ago when the shop closed owing to business depression.

In May 1932 I was employed as an apprentice in the Anhwei Bank, Tientsin Road, where I worked in that capacity for one year.

In July 1933 I was employed as a workman in the Loh Tung (大東) Rubber Over shoes Factory, 300 Ma chow Road, earning $24 wages per mensura. I have been working there ever since. I live in the factory.

At about 6 pm June 25 a fellow-worker named Tsz Hui Mang (朱希孟) gave me a bundle of handbills (about 200) on the Pingliang Road Bridge and asked me to distribute them to shops in the vicinity of Pingliang and Hockien Roads. He did not promise me any remuneration as it is a patriotic movement. I then asked another fellow-worker named Tsz Yao Keng (朱耀耕) to assist me in the distribution of the handbills. While doing so, we were noticed by C.P.Cs 1096 and 2937 who arrested us on Hockien Road near Lay Road and brought us to the Police Station.

I have been a member of the Chinese People's Armed Self-Defence Committee since December 1934 through the introduction of a former school-mate named Kying Fa Ding (何富定) who is working in the Tung Feong (通豐) Metal Works, Whang Road, but he has not yet informed me of the address of that Committee. I do not say any membership name. I am just a communist but an innocent in the anti-Japanese movement. Signed: Kying Yih Zung
